The Best & Safest Place For Crypto

Canton distinctly balances the decentralization of public blockchain with the privacy and controls required for financial markets. No other network allows assets and data to move across applications with real-time synchronization and guaranteed privacy—without the need to sacrifice trust or give up control to central intermediaries

ABOUT COMPANY

Next generation opportunity for Earning.

To enhance interoperability on the Canton Network, Digital Asset has created the technology for an optional decentralized synchronizer for the Canton Network that includes a native utility token to pay synchronizer traffic fees and that can be minted by participants that provide infrastructure or applications for the synchronizer. The first instance of this decentralized synchronizer technology is being deployed by leading market participants and is called the Global Synchronizer, and its utility token is called Canton Coin.

WHAT IS CANTON COIN?

Canton Coin (CC), the network's native utility token, was designed to reward real network usage over speculation. It aligns the success of the network with the participants who make it work, fairly rewarding app builders and app users, as well as those operating decentralized infrastructure. The result is a fundamentally different model where rewards flow to those creating value through real activity, not only miners or early investors.

CANTON'S TOKENOMICS AIM TO SIDESTEP THE PITFALLS SEEN IN EARLIER NETWORKS:

No pre-mine, no VC allocations:

Every token in circulation has been earned by delivering utility.

Burn-and-Mint equilibrium:

Usage fees are burned, and new coins are minted based on participation. This keeps supply responsive to demand and ties value to network usage.

HOW DOES PRIVACY WORK

Canton Network is architected with sub-transaction level privacy, configured at the smart contract level and implemented natively by the protocol.

This means that parties only receive a copy of the parts of a transaction that specifically apply to them, and data is only shared with stakeholders on a need-to-know basis. For example, in a Delivery vs. Payment (DvP) transaction, where an asset is transferred in exchange for payment, the bank will only see the data for the cash transfer portion of the transaction, and not the underlying securities being transferred. On the other hand, the securities registrar will only see the data for the assets transfer and not the corresponding cash movement.

DECENTRALIZATION AND BLOCKCHAIN

Canton distinctly balances the decentralization of public blockchain with the privacy and controls required for financial markets. No other network allows assets and data to move across applications with real-time synchronization and guaranteed privacy—without the need to sacrifice trust or give up control to central intermediaries.

A blockchain is a decentralized ledger of all transactions across a peer-to-peer network. Using this technology, participants can confirm transactions without a need for a central clearing authority. Potential applications can include enterprise blockchain applications, sustainability, tokenization, fund transfers, supply chain tracking and many other areas

DECENTRALIZED

No central authority
Full control to users

TRANSPARENT

GROW WITH THE CANTON NETWORK

As a member of the community providing the foundational infrastructure of the Canton Network, you have a unique opportunity to grow with the network and support the creation of new applications and connections.

Bring enhanced utility and value to the public network and its participants, all while gaining first mover advantage and insight into connections that can be made across the network as it grows.

SAFE & SECURE

Built with advanced security protocols to ensure the safety of your assets and data.

FAST TRANSACTION

High-performance infrastructure enables instant and seamless transactions across the network.

PROFITABLE

Create, connect and grow with opportunities that are designed for long-term profitability.

WORLDWIDE

A global network with limitless potential and connections across the world.
